From our Learning Commons/Librarian – Mr. Kwok

As a way to promote reading and literacy, our school district is currently running a Middle School Book of the Year Contest, and our school is participating! There are 10 books chosen by middle school librarians in the district and we encourage students to read as many of them as they can over the next 2 months. These books are available from the school library, but students are more than welcome to get copies from public libraries or read them on alternative platforms such as ebooks and audiobooks. After they finished reading each book, they would complete a bookmark review of the book. Mr. Kwok will run weekly draws for various prizes for students who submitted bookmarks, and any students who completed a minimum of 3 bookmarks will be entered into a draw for a Chapters gift card in May. In May, these qualified students will also get to vote for their favourite title among these ten and the district will collect all the results to determine this year's Book of the Year winner!

Here are the book trailers for our 10 Book of the Year candidates if families want to check them out!
