

March 13th, 2026

Dear Anmore Families,

As we pull the curtain on this week, it feels as though we've reached a natural pause in the story we are writing this year. Even the weather seemed to be reflecting on the transition; the snow we've had this week has been a cold reminder that while we are dreaming of spring, winter isn't quite ready to let go.

Inside our walls, however, the warmth has been undeniable. This week, we gathered for our Social-Emotional Learning Recognition Assembly, and there is nothing like a whole-school song to center us. These moments of collective harmony are where our community comes to life, reminding us that our individual stories are part of a larger, shared narrative.

Anmore's shared story was also on full display during the Public Speaking Assembly, on Wednesday. We were treated to such a showcase of courage and vulnerability and are especially proud to share that Tristan and Eva have been selected to represent our school at the District's Public Speaking Festival later this spring. Their growth, and the confidence of everyone who stepped up to the microphone, is a testament to the powerful student voice coming into force across all our grade levels.

You will also find the quieter, more personal chapters of the year in this week's Learning Updates. I want to recognize the effort our teachers have put into these, not just as assessments of literacy or numeracy, but also the deep effort to honor the whole child. Teachers have spent hours capturing the social and emotional milestones that define who our students are becoming, as well as celebrating the grit of the winter months and the goals we've been chasing since the fall.

As we head into Spring Break, I hope the vacation affords you the opportunity for recreation in its most literal sense: a chance to re-create.

A school year is a drama in three acts, and the break comes as a clear marker to show the end of the second – a time of hard work and significant growth. Spring Break is a chance to step away from the script, enjoy the lengthening days, and re-create the story we want to tell going forward. It's a moment to rest so we can realize the goals revealed through these first two acts.

I wish you a wonderful, restorative break with your families.

Warmly,

Bryan Jackson
Principal | Anmore Elementary
