DIRECTIONS 2025: ACTION PLAN FOR LEARNING

Gleneagle Secondary

Reflection

-We were able to come back from COVID by the last few months
 -By doing so we recognized the need for students and staff to feel connected and a sense of belonging
 -Events that came back and were celebrated include: Jazz Gala (at a smaller scale), TedX, Staff events and Staff Parties

-after focussing on reading for many years, writing became a logical next step
 -writing skills and writing engagement is a high priority (in all subject areas) and learning how to express thoughts and communicate efficiently

-much work to be done in Indigenous learning
 -last year we focussed on our own learning of Coast Salish peoples and history
 -feel better prepared to take some of our learning (and continue it) and incorporate it into our teaching practices
 -will have a DH to help guide us and incorporate our Core Competencies within that

-while we have more work to do, we are proud of the work we have doen so far
 -we continue to live by our values of inclusivity, being curious and kind at Gleneagle and look forward to growth and development in all our goal areas
