The City of Port Coquitlam offers volunteer support to children and youth living with a variety of disabilities who register in Parks and Recreation Programs.

This is a great information session for those families that require support for their children or youth in a registered Port Coquitlam program or who have used our Leisure Buddy Program for support in the past as a few things have changed. This session is geared towards those who have and have not accessed the support program, informing families of the changes in our program and how to access support.

Leisure Buddies

To ensure the safety and enjoyment of all participants and staff, we ask all parents to read the following information. Children require additional support for a variety of reasons. Examples include, but are not limited to, Autism, physical or mental limitations, behavioral issues, aggression, language barriers etc.

Our program leaders are responsible for the entire group and cannot spend extended periods of time focusing on the specific needs of one child. Also important is our leaders do not deal with your child every day, so what may be routine for some parents could be extreme for our instructors.

It is important to choose a program appropriate for your child. Our day camps are active, often hectic, noisy active programs, which go for long walks, take public transit, interact in busy public settings and often have an ever-changing schedule. This type of program is not appropriate for children who cannot cope with the program agenda.

Leisure Buddies assist children with tasks like focusing on the task at hand, re-direction, ensured involvement, explaining, assisting and group inclusion.

Information Form

Parents registering children with needs in any of our programs are required to complete the Leisure Buddy information form, available at any customer service desk or click here to download as a PDF. You can also fill out the form online here.

Additional details

Staff require a week's notice to find an appropriate volunteers.

Support is very limited the first week of summer programs (July 2-6).

Participants are eligible for up to 2 weeks of support; support is based on demand & available resources.

Port Coquitlam residents are given priority over non-residents.

Participants are matched with a Leisure Buddy on a first-come first-served basis.

Our Leisure Buddies do not provide personal care, such as assistance with toileting etc.
