CAREER CENTER

Technovation Girls is a global nonprofit program that empowers girls (ages 8–18) to become leaders, creators, and problem solvers through technology and entrepreneurship.

Each year, Technovation Girls hosts a free international competition where teams of girls identify a real-world problem in their community and develop a mobile app or AI solution to address it — with guidance from mentors and educators. It’s an incredible opportunity for students to build coding, teamwork, and leadership skills while making a positive impact.

This year’s Technovation Challenge is officially kicking off, and students can register for the challenge TODAY!

To learn more visit:

: <https://technovationchallenge.org>.
