HWSS Pride Club'
WORD OF THE WEEK

Two-Spirit

Two Spirit is an umbrella term used by some North American indigenous people to describe identifying with a different gender/sexuality within indigenous communities. This can encase different roles and represent their identity as a LGBTQIA2S+ indigenous person.

INDIGENOUS MD ADMISSIONS WORKSHOP

JULY 8-10, 2026

The 23rd annual Indigenous MD Admissions Workshop will take place on the unceded territory of the Lheidli T'enneh at the Northern Medical Program, located on the University of Northern British Columbia campus in Prince George, BC.

EXPLORE A FUTURE IN MEDICINE

If you are thinking about pursuing a future in medicine, this is a unique opportunity to learn how UBC can support you in your studies and connect with an inclusive, caring community of medical practitioners, students, and faculty.

Our annual pre-admissions workshop for Indigenous pre-med students isn't just for those already in university. Prospective students, including post-secondary and high school students can explore what it means to attend university and embark on a journey to becoming a healthcare professional.

JOIN A CARING COMMUNITY

Being part of a community is important—it helps people feel connected to traditions and knowledge unique to them. At the UBC Faculty of Medicine, we are a community that celebrates our students' diverse perspectives on healthcare and Indigenous ways of knowing.

For twenty-three years we've been providing the Indigenous MD Admissions Workshop dedicated to welcoming Indigenous people into our faculty and supporting you as you make a commitment to study medicine. We know that our annual workshop will give you an introduction to our community and help you feel more confident about your decision to study medicine.

WHY ATTEND?

To learn

- Find out about prerequisites, course planning, and get a preview of the medical curriculum and residency programs.
- Get an overview of the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT), and learn about the UBC interview process by participating in mock interviews.
- Gain familiarity with the application process and admission requirements.

Meet faculty & staff

- Hear stories from doctors and faculty who chose UBC.
- Learn about student supports from a member of the Student Affairs team.
- Get the facts about your financial options from the Faculty of Medicine's Student Financial Assistance Officer.

Feel supported

- Learn about preparing your application from our Indigenous Initiatives team.
- Better understand specific Indigenous resources and support for students with Indigenous ancestry, including First Nations, Métis & Inuit peoples.
- Hear from a local Elder during the opening and closing remarks.
- Ask questions of Indigenous medical students and residents to learn about their experiences.
- Find out more about what pursuing a career in medicine entails.

If you're feeling apprehensive about pursuing a medical degree, our workshop is one of the best ways to reduce your doubts, fears, or anxieties about pursuing your goal of becoming a medical doctor. You'll gain personal insights and guidance about your choice to study medicine with us.

We are excited about the remarkable students, alumni, and faculty who will be presenting and advising over all three days of the workshop and we hope you'll join us in July 2026.

WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED

There is no cost to attend the workshop.

The workshop will take place in person in Prince George. The university will cover your accommodations and meals, however travel to/from the workshop will be your responsibility.

If public health guidelines change, the workshop may need to shift to a virtual gathering. This will be communicated as soon as a decision is made. Successful applicants will be notified by email.

NEXT STEPS: YOUR WORKSHOP APPLICATION

Apply online at: https://ubc.ca/1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_0D4S4HRDke8seKV

Along with your application, you'll need to prepare and submit:

- A 500-word autobiographical essay, including who you are and why you want to become a doctor.
- A copy of your most recent transcripts or report card.
- A copy of your proof of ancestry such as status, treaty and Métis membership cards. We also accept written letters of support from your Band, Inuit and Métis organizations.

We encourage you to get your application in as soon as possible. If you have any questions about the workshop, please reach out to us.

PRE- ADMISSIONS WORKSHOP FOR BLACK STUDENTS

July 8-10, 2026

The Black Student Pre-Admissions Workshop will take place in Prince George at the University of Northern British Columbia and at the University Hospital of Northern British Columbia.

EXPLORE A FUTURE IN MEDICINE

If you are thinking about pursuing a future in medicine, this is a unique opportunity to learn how UBC can support you in your studies and connect you with an inclusive, caring community of medical practitioners, students, and faculty.

Our inaugural pre-admissions workshop for Black students is open to postsecondary and high school students as a way to explore what it means to embark on a journey to becoming a healthcare professional.

JOIN A CARING COMMUNITY

Feeling part of a community is essential when you're taking the first step on an exciting new path like studying medicine. Our two-day workshop will help you feel connected to a caring network of support and introduce you to a thriving community of faculty, staff, Black physicians, and students.

At the UBC Faculty of Medicine we celebrate our students' diverse perspectives on healthcare and our hope is that you will have an opportunity to experience this sense of inclusivity during our immersive workshop dedicated to welcoming students into our faculty. We hope that by attending this workshop, you'll gain more certainty and confidence about your decision to study medicine with us.

WHY ATTEND?

To learn

- Find out about prerequisites, course planning and get a preview of the medical curriculum and residency programs.
- Get an overview of the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT), and learn more about the multiple mini interviews (MMI) at UBC.
- Gain familiarity with the application process and admission requirements.
- Access case-based and hands-on learning opportunities via the simulation lab.

Meet faculty & staff

- Hear stories from doctors and faculty who chose UBC.
- Learn about student supports from our Student Affairs team.
- Explore financial options for funding your studies.

Feel supported

- Find what pursuing a career in medicine entails.
- Learn about preparing your application from our Black Student Initiatives Manager.
- Connect with other prospective applicants interested in pursuing a medical education.
- Learn about the specific supports available to Black UBC medical students both at UBC and in the broader community.

If you're feeling apprehensive about pursuing a medical degree, our workshop is one of the best ways to reduce your doubts, fears, or anxieties about achieving your goal of becoming a medical doctor. You'll gain personal insights and guidance about your choice to study medicine with us.

We are excited about the remarkable students, alumni, and faculty who will be presenting and advising over both days of the workshop and we hope to see you on campus this July.

WE'VE GOT YOU COVERED

There is no cost to attend the workshop. The university will cover accommodations and meals, however travel to and from the workshop will be the applicant's responsibility.

NEXT STEPS: YOUR WORKSHOP APPLICATION

Apply online at:
https://ubc.ca1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_6g9w0FvSyNvkoev

Along with your application, you'll need to prepare and submit:

- A copy of your most recent unofficial transcripts or report card,
- An essay indicating why you would like to partake in the workshop and how you think it will help you pursue an education in medicine.

We encourage you to get your application in as soon as possible. If you have any questions about the workshop, please reach out to us by email at BlackPathway.MD@ubc.ca.
