Community Volunteer Connections

Community Volunteer Connections has been rooted in the Tri-Cities since 1976. As the voice of volunteerism for our sector, we bring people together to mobilize volunteer action, and strengthen the capacity of local nonprofits. Our vision is a volunteer-engaged region where everyone can contribute and grow through meaningful action. Our values are grounded in the belief that volunteering not only strengthens communities but also empowers individuals.

- We connect you to local nonprofits aligned with your interests
- Volunteer alone, with family, or as a group (e.g., work teams, friends)
- Explore short-term, long-term, virtual, or skills-based roles
- Free guidance & coaching from our team

Our programs

01 Volunteering for individuals and groups

As a volunteer centre, we're in touch with many nonprofits in our region. While we're not a matching service, we can empower you to start your journey towards a positive experience.

You can easily schedule an online meeting with us or simply send us an email to begin exploring your interests and volunteer needs. We provide guidance and practical tips to help make your volunteering experience both meaningful and rewarding.

02 Mental health integration support program (MHIS)

The MHIS runs in cooperation with Fraser Health staff at assigned facilities in the Lower Mainland. This program has been operating since 2009!

Volunteering as a MHIS volunteer is the perfect opportunity for you if you're 19 years or older, want to gain hands-on experience working with residents in a public health facility, and are interested in mental health.

03 Volunteer inclusion program (VIP)

The VIP runs with support from Community Living BC. Through this program, adults living with intellectual disabilities are supported in micro-volunteering and ongoing opportunities with local organizations.

Volunteering at school

Various roles available.

In-school activities offer a meaningful and accessible way for youth to earn volunteer hours while developing valuable life skills.

By participating in school-based initiatives, students can build leadership, teamwork, communication, and organizational skills in a familiar and supportive environment.

These experiences not only help meet graduation requirements but also foster confidence, civic engagement, and a sense of responsibility - preparing you for future education, employment, and community involvement.

How to get involved:

1. Talk to your teacher, counselor, or school office
2. Check your school's volunteer opportunities, newsletter, or bulletin
3. Complete the required forms or training
4. Start making a difference!

Why volunteer at school?

- Earn volunteer hours (perfect for graduation, scholarships, and resumes)
- Build leadership, teamwork, and communication skills
- Give back to your school community
- Convenience of volunteering somewhere you're already going

Examples of roles or activities

1. Supporting classroom activities - ask your teacher how you can get involved
2. Helping with school events or clubs - think: student council
3. Assisting with sports, arts, or recreation programs
4. Peer support through tuition or homework support
5. Supporting younger students during lunch or recess

🌱 Organizations that offer opportunities to build skills for youth (at-cost)

Below are two youth organizations that, for a participation fee, provide structured programs focused on skill-building, leadership development, and confidence-building. Through hands-on activities, teamwork, and community involvement, youth gain practical life skills and develop independence in a supportive environment.

To clarify, these are not volunteer opportunities for youth. Rather, they are another means of skill and confidence development through community participation.

1 Scouts Canada

Scouts Canada is the country's leading co-ed youth organization, offering programming for children and youth aged 5-26. With over 42,000 youth participating across the country, in multiple languages and reflecting Canada's multicultural landscape, kids and youth in Scouts chart their own path of discovery. Through a variety of fun experiences, outdoor adventures and contributions to their community, Scouts builds resilience and skills that set them up for life.

Tips for volunteering

We understand that searching for volunteer roles can feel overwhelming. Here are some helpful tips to guide you:

Consider Your Preferences:

Think about location, time commitment, personal values, and what motivates you to volunteer.

Short-term vs. Long-term:

Volunteer roles vary from one-day events and short term projects up to three months, to ongoing roles with weekly shifts. Choose what fits your schedule and goals.

Virtual Volunteering:

Many opportunities allow you to contribute from home with flexible hours. Choose what fits your schedule and goals.

Skills-Based Volunteering:

Interested in building or using specific skills? Explore roles that match your expertise or help you grow professionally.

Don't be afraid to ask questions!
Reflect on your needs and the needs of the organization you are volunteering with.
