Daily Announcements

Monday, November 29, 2021

Good morning.
We will be back in 30 seconds with your morning announcements.

Here are your announcements:

Happy Sunglasses Day! Teachers, please don't forget to count how many students are participating and fill out the MS form for today!

Monochrome day is on its way! We hope to see you wearing only shades of black, grey and white tomorrow! They can be mismatched but remember no colours!

Did you know Hanukkah started last night? Hanukkah is a celebration that happens for 9 days in November and December and it is celebrated by people of the Jewish faith. Check out the Menorah by the gym.

Just a friendly reminder to Exploration teachers that this week you are on supervision!
