

DAILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Wednesday, December 18, 2024

Good morning. We will be back in 30 seconds with your morning announcements.

Today is Festive Wear Day, and you all look absolutely spectacular! The hallways are glowing with holiday spirit thanks to your fabulous outfits. But the fun doesn't end here—get ready to bring some tropical vibes tomorrow for Hawaiian Day! Pull out those floral shirts, leis, and sunglasses, and let's transport ourselves to a sunny beach. The more vibrant and beachy, the better! Let's keep the festive fun alive and make these days full of joy, creativity, and laughter!

There is beautification club today at lunch. Let's wrap up our projects before Winter break begins! Meet in the outdoor ed room.

Do you have books from the learning commons? Please return books to the LLC as soon as possible.

Food and Toy Drive - We are in the final stretch of Winter hampers. HLC students will be coming by after school today to collect any food and toy donations. Teachers, please have your hampers ready to go by the classroom door and they will be picked up promptly after school. . If you forgot your donations or have items that are perishable, please bring them in by tomorrow morning. Thank you Hillcrest for all of the items that you donated for our community.

Reminder the Winter Bake Sale begins tomorrow at lunch in the MPR. Today's bake sale free item goes to Janet Lee in div 20. Claim your voucher in the DMA room today at nut break.
