Spirit Week

Student A: Broooo, next week is the last week before spring break. We should do something fun!

Student B: How about full-on spirit week vibes?! Let's kick it off super easy—Monday can be Low Effort, High Aura Day.

Student A: Yesss. Sweatpants, pajamas, giant hoodies... basically "I woke up like this" but make it intentional.

Student B: So kind of like how students dress most of the time! Maximum comfort, minimum effort. Peak middle-school energy.

Student A: Bet. And if someone asks why we look like we just rolled out of bed, we'll just say, "we're not lazy... we're rizz-iliant."

Student B: STOP. That joke hurt my soul but also I'm using it.

Student A: You heard it here first, Monday will kick off the spirit week dress up challenge with low effort, high aura day!
