

Game Ready IMPACT Camps

CHILDREN & YOUTH SPRING BREAK PROGRAMS

In Partnership with

Impacting My Peers And Community Together

These no-cost camps focus on the development of physical & sport skills, leadership, and sportsmanship. Throughout the week participants will build confidence and competence with their movements and sport skills, playing games and participating in activities that challenge and engage each child or youth. In addition, camps will include a leadership workbook so that kids monitor their progress and aim for greater performance as youth. The leadership skills and the physical skills included in sports such as soccer, basketball, volleyball, football and more will be coached and developed by former University student-athletes and community leaders with experience in development. During the week participants will not only play games and practice skills but they will also try equipment and learn the rules!
