FamilySmart

FamilySmart - Together-Centred™ for Child & Youth Mental Health

May 7th is National Child & Youth Mental Health Day—a day when we focus on letting our kids know just how seen, heard, valued and LOVED they are. FamilySmart leads this day with the message of "I Care About You," and focuses on the importance of creating caring connections between young people and the caring adults in their lives. May 7th is a gentle reminder that even the smallest moments of connection—like a quick check-in, playing a video game, reading a book, sharing a surprise laugh, or simply listening—can make a world of difference in a child's life. We truly value how much you do. FamilySmart wants to offer a little extra support, a new perspective maybe, or a new skill, to make those daily conversations with the young people you care about a little easier.

This May 7th, we will be hosting a heartfelt online conversation with Katie DeReus. Katie is a registered clinical counsellor and an elementary school counsellor who understands just how much these moments matter. She'll be talking about children under 12 who are going through deep emotional pain. Katie will share messages of hope, helping us understand why our little ones sometimes feel so much distress, and how meaningful connection can help them feel safe and supported. If you are a parent, caregiver, or a caring adult for a child who is struggling right now, please know we see you, and we know it's hard. We would love for you to join us.
