Reviewed, July 2023

Riverside Code of Conduct

I. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to provide a basic framework and common expectations for all schools. The guidelines reflect the new provincial standards for "Codes of Conduct", as stated below:

School boards and schools are entrusted through the School Act with authority to establish codes of conduct. While recognizing the autonomy of these bodies and acknowledging the efforts they have already undertaken to ensure school climates are as positive as possible, the provincial standards described below are provided to assist them in developing consistent and coherent policies and practices in their communities. Although most schools have codes of conduct in place, it is expected that all British Columbia schools will revisit existing codes and/or develop new codes of conduct reflecting the provincial standards.

II. CODE OF CONDUCT: KEY ELEMENTS

1. Process

All British Columbia schools include students, parents, and staff in the development and review of codes of conduct. At Riverside, school staff, the Parent Advisory Council, Student Government, and the School Planning Council have reviewed the current code of conduct to meet the Ministry requirement of page 15 of A Guide for Safe, Caring and Orderly Schools.

2. Communication

Expectations regarding acceptable conduct are made known to all students, parents, and school staff, as well as to temporary staff and visitors. Protocols, while acting as ambassadors of the school, are also made known to students, parents, coaches, and involved members of the greater community.

Student conduct is regularly reviewed with students at assemblies, through advisory, and in regular school classes. The School and District Codes of Conduct will be reviewed during the first week of school in STREAM, grade assemblies, posted on the school's website, and on the My School Day App. Codes of Conduct are also provided to employees of the board who are assigned to the school during the school year when they are so assigned, and to students and parents when a student starts attending the school during the school year.

3. Implementation

"Behavioural expectations outlined in codes of conduct are consistently taught and actively promoted. Responses to unacceptable behaviour are based consistently on sound principles and are appropriate to the context."

Examples of implementation strategies that teach, model, and encourage socially responsible behaviours for students include bi-weekly STREAM classes, special presentations for students, grade level assemblies, and explicit teaching whenever possible. Staff also participate in discussion around aspects of the code of conduct in staff meeting discussions, presentations and in information sessions for teachers and support staff. Special consideration is given to aligning our code of conduct with the five key aspects of Riverside's focus on fostering a "Caring and Compassionate Community." These key aspects include fostering: relationships, care for self, others, and the community, positive school culture, compassion, and sense of belonging. The Riverside staff is engaged in on-going professional development and discussion around our five aspects of a “Caring and Compassionate Community,” and this work supports the way in which we seek to better understand and support our students.

Parents are given the opportunity to be involved in the implementation process during presentations at SPC and PAC meetings, and we often refer to the Code of Conduct during parent conversations where we ask for their support in reinforcing the code at home.

4. Monitoring and Review

“Conduct is continuously monitored to ensure codes reflect current and emerging situations and are contributing to school safety.”

“Codes of conduct are reviewed and improved in light of evidence gathered and/or relevant research, and are revisited as part of a regular cycle of policy review.”

Each spring, a formal review process with school partner groups is completed. This process includes formal and informal consultations with students, staff, and parents, reviewing office referral and suspension data, and reviewing Provincial standards to track trends and identify areas requiring further development.

5. Alignment

Riverside's Code of Conduct is compatible between schools in the community and across elementary, middle, and secondary levels.

6. Standards

Riverside Secondary School promotes the values expressed in the BC Human Rights Code respecting the rights of all individuals in accordance with the law prohibiting discrimination based on race, colour, ancestry, place of origin, religion, marital status, physical or mental disability, sex, or sexual orientation - in service and facility in the school environment (Ministry Order 6a).

a) Statement of Purpose

- To establish and maintain a safe, caring, and orderly environment for purposeful learning
- To establish and maintain appropriate balances among individual and collective rights, freedoms, and responsibilities
- To clarify and publish expectations for student behaviour while at school, while going to and from school, and while attending any school function or activity at any location

b) Conduct Expectations

These expectations apply to behaviour at school, during school-organized or sponsored activities, and behaviour beyond these times (including on-line behaviour) that negatively impacts the safe, caring, or orderly environment of the school, and/or student learning. Riverside expectations are based around the District Code of Conduct for students, which shall be followed in all schools.
