

Course Changes - September 2013

Due to a high number of new student registrations, a much larger number of Summer School course completions and funding formula limitations to timetable creation, there is very limited space in the timetable to accommodate course change requests. All students are expected to take 8 courses (8 plus GTP for Gr. 12 students).

It will be highly unlikely for students to have their schedules changed. Students who have changed their mind about electives will have very few alternate choices.

Counsellors are in the building the week before school, but unable to take calls or book appointments. Their priorities are to register new students, revise student timetables as a result of Summer School completions, and verify student enrolment and class composition in classes.

Priority for class changes will be conducted in this manner:

1. New students
2. Students requiring an 8th course
3. Students requiring courses for graduation
4. Students who are in the wrong course
5. Students who do not have a lunch block (although this may be difficult in some cases, especially with students taking Music)

No priority will be given to issues related to teacher selection, peer-related matters and students wanting to switch lunch blocks to be with peers.

Students are not to miss class time to change courses; therefore, course changes will not be made during the school day.

A select number of course changes will be conducted on the following days, by Grade, on a first come, first served basis.
