Today is the second year of the Lunar New Year. This celebration will last 15 days in total. Today is also Groundhog Day. This is the day where people in many places say the groundhogs emerge from their burrows and look for their shadow. The most famous groundhog is Punxsutawney Phil, from Pennsylvania. This year, Phil saw his shadow and therefore predicted 6 more weeks of winter. Interestingly, Lucy the Lobster from Nova Scotia, Canada also saw her shadow, so she also agrees with Phil and predicts 6 more weeks of winter.
