Daily Announcements

Wednesday, May 11, 2022

Good morning.

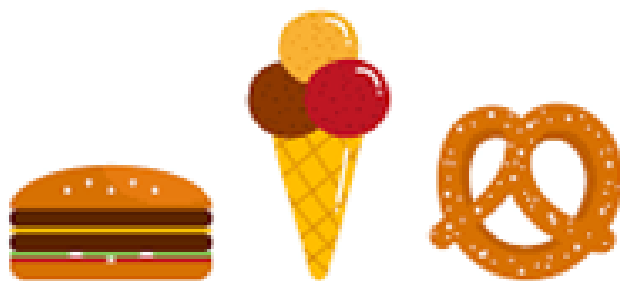

We'll be back in 30 seconds with your morning announcements.

Here are your announcements:

Today at lunch the drama club meets in the stage area -- room 120. Come join us for improv and laughs!

Attention all Courtyard club members. Thank you for the great turn out last week! Today's club will be dependent on the weather. If it is raining the club will be cancelled. Please listen to announcements at the end of the day to find out whether or not the club is in session today.

There is a very important meeting for any players interested in Rugby in the Gym at Nutrition break today to discuss our next game and practice schedule. If you are interested in playing but still haven't received a form please feel free to come and join.
