Dear parents/guardians,

Today your middle school-aged child is bringing home a Progress Report. This Progress Report is intended to provide a snapshot in time of your child's current progress.

Progress Reports for students in grades 6-8 contain letter grades and work habit marks for all of their current CORE courses. Where relevant, some Progress Reports will contain comments for parents in the additional information section. Teachers will have provided comments if there has been a significant change in student progress since the last term. Some students may also receive a supplemental report if they receive Student Support Services, or ESL.

Please take the time to review your child's progress, celebrating their successes and, perhaps, making goals for the final term of this year. If you have any questions about your child's progress, please contact your child's teacher(s). The Progress Report does not need to be returned to school.

In your child's planner today you will find a report indicating your child's progress in completed Explorations courses from Terms one, two and three. Please sign page 4 of your child's planner to indicate you have received this report.

Coming out at the end of June will be a complete report of your child's final term this year.
