January 25, 2012

Dear Parents/Guardians;

We are seeing students engaged in their learning in so many different ways throughout a day – reading aloud and independently, writing in journals and becoming authors of their own inventive stories; working on projects with peers and demonstrating their learning in a variety of ways. It is an exciting place to learn!

The last 20 minutes or so of a school day is the time that students review with their teachers; teachers are signing planners, reviewing with students individually or in groups about the daily events and setting a positive tone to the closure of a school day. Some students need more support with this than others, but regardless of the needs, the last part of the school day is important to both student and teacher.

We are respectfully requesting that parents remain outside in the undercover area until the dismissal bell – and if you do need to come in after the bell, you are very welcome to do so.

If you need to pick up your child early – which we all know happens from time to time, to accommodate parent work schedules, medical appointments, or special family events, just come by the office and we can have your child meet you there.

Thank you for your cooperation!
